

Cathy Lanzalaco

Award Winning Résumé Writer, Executive Career & Interview Coach

About Cathy

I provide job seekers and career transitioners with the tools, coaching, and support they need to achieve their goals.

After working in human resources for over 15 years, reviewing thousands of résumés, and interviewing hundreds of candidates, I wanted to share my extensive experience to help others succeed.

With this in mind, I launched Write-Résumé-For-The-Job in January 2017 and acquired Inspire Careers in October 2018. I proudly continue to serve local and national job seekers, as well as those transitioning into new careers.

Client Testimonials

Cathy was such a tremendous help to me in my recent career transition. She made my resume "pop" and grab the attention of potential employers. I really appreciated her guidance and suggestions so that I would land on my feet. I highly recommend her to anyone in need of a career guidance: from a little job coaching all the way up to a full-fledged career search.
